'Walgreen' site sought for offices

Drug store development unlikely

By Bob Slato
Staff writer

In 1991, the city of Granite City issued $2 million in tax increment financing bonds to help pay for the purchase of several parcels of property in the 2000 block of Madison Avenue. The next year, the city used eminent domain proceedings and its quick-take powers in an attempt to obtain 17 parcels of property in the block, with the intent to attract a 14,000-square-foot Walgreen drug store at 20th Street and Madison Avenue. The city eventually obtained three parcels — a vacant lot, a residential lot and the site of Granite City One Hour Cleaners, which was forced to close. An existing Clark Oil gasoline station and food shop at the corner also closed. Today, more than four years later, the proposed Walgreen property remains vacant except for some residual gasoline contamination on the corner lot — still owned by Clark Oil — and on the former cleaner property next to Clark. The prospect of a new drug store at the site is bleak to non-existent because Clark has refused to clean up its property. Officials of the Blackstone Group, which had planned to develop the site for Walgreen, have said they do not want to risk the investment on contaminated property. At the time his property at 2009 Madison Ave. was forced into condemnation, Thomas Smith, owner of Granite City One Hour Cleaners, did not understand why the city wanted to close down his business. He vowed to remain on his property, but eventually the bulldozers — and a settlement from the city — convinced him to leave. This month, the city received its first inquiry about the city-owned property in the 2000 block of Madison Avenue since the Walgreen project fell through.

On June 25, the city advertised for competing

Hagnauer resigns from county board post

By Bob Slato
Staff writer

Bernie Hagnauer has resigned from the Madison County Board without attending a single meeting. Granite City 6th Ward Alderman Mac Warfield, chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, is expected to fill the position in District 20. Bernie Hagnauer was appointed to the county board in June to fulfill the remainder of her husband Nelson's current term following his death May 18. Nellie Hagnauer had served on the county board for more than 40 years, including 12 two-year terms as its chairman. County Board Chairman Rudy Papa of Bethalto said Thursday that he "deeply regretted" receiving Bernie Hagnauer's brief, one-sentence letter of resignation, dated July 15, on Thursday morning. Numerous attempts to contact her were unsuccessful.

Jail nearing completion

Builders will come close but fall just short of meeting a Monday target date for completion of expansion and renovation of the Madison County Jail, an official said. County buildings administrator Marty Siglock said two of three new cellblocks are finished and a new roof for the building may be done by the end of this month. Contractor K&S Associates Inc. of St. Louis began the $4.98 million project in June 1995. "Some of (the delay) is weather-related," Siglock said. "We got a late start this winter and spring because of the weather. There have been some change orders. Between that and the weather, I think they've done a timely performance of the project. The workmanship has been fine." Completion of the roof can't come too soon for Sheriff Bob Churchich and his staff. The jail's roof has leaked for years and has become significantly more sieve-like since the work began. Churchich said he doubts the roof will be

'Jail and Bail' Cancer benefit set

By Bob Slato
Staff writer

Want to play a trick on your spouse? A friend? An enemy? You can do so this week and at the same time help fight one of the world's leading killers, cancer. The Quad Cities Unit of the American Cancer Society's annual "Jail and Bail" fund raiser will be conducted Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event begins with an off-duty police officer bringing a handcuffed prisoner to the jail site, the Clark Avenue Church of Christ, 2130 Clark Ave. The prisoner is brought before a judge, charged with a conical crime and given a mock trial. After sentencing, the prisoner is given a striped black and white uniform and

Madison gets set for move

New city hall being readied

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

After almost 90 years of meetings in Madison City Hall on Third Street, the Madison City Council is getting a new home. At Tuesday's council meeting, Mayor John Bellico announced the meetings were being moved to the Venice Township offices until the new city hall is ready. City officials said the council and other city hall functions are expected to be moving to the new city hall at 615 Madison Ave. in September.

In the meantime, the next three city council meetings will be held at the Venice Township, 910 Madison Avenue. The meetings will be at the normal time, 7 p.m. on alternate Tuesdays. The next meeting is July 30.

The move is necessary because workers will be moving and reinstalling the mayor and aldermen's desks and chairs in their new chambers.

Because of the switch in meeting locations,

Group backs north bridge site

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A St. Louis group is the first to publicly announce its support for one of two proposed sites for a new eight-lane bridge to be built across the Mississippi River.

At a press conference Thursday, officials from Downtown St. Louis Inc. announced their support for the northern route, which would connect 14th, Tucker and Interstate 70 in Missouri to a relocated Illinois 3, 203 and I-55/70 in Illinois. The other proposed route would tie into I-55 south of the MacArthur and Poplar Street Bridges in Missouri and connect to I-255 near Moussette Lane.

The announcement pleased Madison County Board Chairman Rudy Papa.

"I'm tickled pink," he said Thursday. And at a meeting kicking off Madison County's long-range transportation plan Wednesday, county officials and others involved in the plan expressed support for the northern route and some said that although an official announcement will not be made until at least the fall, the northern route will probably be picked.

Papa said the county board would be taking some kind of official action in the near future.

Although the bridge will be located in St. Clair County, the northern route would have a major impact on Madison County, especially the city of Madison.

The northern route would dump traffic into the area between Gateway International Raceway — which is undergoing a $25 million renovation and expansion — and a proposed $8 million, 27-hole golf course.

Either bridge would cost approximately $550 million and take at least 10 years to complete. The northern route would be

Two face drag racing charges

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Two men are facing multiple charges after they were arrested for drag racing in Madison Tuesday evening.

Michael Howard Nance, 31, of the 2000 block of Illinois Street in Granite City, was charged with drag racing, driving with no insurance and improper display of registration. He also had an outstanding warrant for violation of child support.

He was released after posting $2,700 cash bond.

Ray Andrews, 31, of the 1900 block of Third Street in Madison, was charged with drag racing, driving with no insurance and having no valid driver's license. Additional charges of illegal possession of cannabis may be filed after lab results are known.

According to police reports, the two were traveling at a high rate of speed at the intersection of Madison Avenue and 12th Street when a police officer spotted them.

After a short chase, the car allegedly driven by Andrews—a black Corvette—stopped at the intersection of 19th Street and Madison Avenue. When Andrews was taken into custody, officers found a clear plastic baggie containing what they suspect is cannabis.

The other car, a white Chevy convertible, got away, but police traced it to Nance's address.

Nance was arrested later at his home.

slightly more expensive, but have a greater impact on traffic, according to consultants.

Downtown St. Louis Inc. Chairman John Fox Arnold said three different committees studied the options presented by engineering consultants and state transportation departments from Illinois and Missouri.

The group's planning, public transportation and bridge committees all agreed the northern option was "preferable."

"Naturally this organization represents the interests of the downtown business community and the 93,000 people who work downtown, but we believe the northern option offers the most benefit to the region and the smallest negative impact to the city," Arnold said.

The northern route would have the strongest positive economic impact on downtown because it will draw traffic into key venues like the America's Center/Trans World Dome and the proposed convention center hotel," he said. It also provides easy access to Union Station, Kiel Center and government offices such as city hall and the courthouse via 14th and 18 streets.

"The ability to easily get into and out of the city's downtown core is one of the key factors that will determine the success of economic development efforts," Arnold said. "We're convinced that the northern bridge option is the best option for downtown business."

The proposed bridges were the subject of recent public meetings by the Illinois and Missouri transportation departments.

Consultants said a new bridge is a necessity.

According to studies done by Sverdrup Corp., the company hired as a consultant for the project, if nothing is done by 2020, motorists wanting to cross both the King and Poplar Street bridges will exceed the actual traffic that the bridges can accommodate in the morning peak by more than 25 percent. This unmet demand will stagnate development, since these motorists will choose not to travel across the Mississippi River at downtown during the peak.

Omar Feeler, project manager for Sverdrup, said at the public hearing that no matter what options are picked to deal with increasing traffic, a new bridge will have to be part of it.

2 charged with home invasion

Two Hillsboro men have been charged with home invasion for allegedly breaking into a home on Madison Avenue and fighting with an occupant early Wednesday morning.

Rex Jason White and Drex Matthew White, both 21, were being held in the Madison County Jail on bond set at $250,000 each.

The two men allegedly took the hinges off a door in the 2500 block of Madison Avenue at about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday and entered the home while the resident and her boyfriend, a Collinsville man, were sleeping, according to a police report.

One of the brothers allegedly fought with the boyfriend, who was pushed through a window.

The resident of the home called police and the brothers fled. They were captured nearby.

Final drug ring defendant found guilty

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The final defendant in a multi-state drug ring centered in Granite City has been found guilty in U.S. District Court in East St. Louis.

During a jury trial before U.S. District Judge William D. Stieh, Isaac Everett Marshall, 54, of St. Louis, was found guilty of conspiracy to distribute methamphetamine. Sentencing has been scheduled for Oct. 4.

Eighteen people have either been convicted or pleaded guilty to charges. Ten have been sentenced, including the Granite City man identified as the group's ringleader.

Don Steven Skaggs, 39, formerly of the 2800 block of Lincoln Avenue in Granite City, was sentenced to 30 years on May 9. He had been found guilty of conspiracy to distribute methamphetamine and money laundering.

His wife, Sherie Lee Skaggs, was sentenced to 235 months in prison on a conspiracy charge.

Eight others are awaiting sentencing.

This conviction brings to a close the prosecution of one of the largest methamphetamine distribution conspiracies in the country," said U.S. District Attorney W. Charles Grace.

Centered in the Granite City area but operating in Illinois, California, Missouri, Nevada and other states, the group was active between June 1992 and January 1995.

Don Skaggs and 13 others were originally arrested Feb. 8, 1995 on indictments handed down by a federal grand jury in East St. Louis in January 1995. Four additional people were added in a superseding indictment in November 1995.

In a related case, Paul Sterling Hahn was sentenced to 100 months in prison for witness tampering.

According to Grace, testimony during one of the trials revealed the group was responsible for the distribution of between 150 and 300 pounds of methamphetamine.

The investigation was conducted as part of the United States Attorney's Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force. Agencies participating in the investigation included the Drug Enforcement Administration; the Internal Revenue Service; the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms; the Illinois State Police; the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois; the Missouri State Highway Patrol; the Arizona Department of Public Safety; the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department; and the St. Charles County MEG unit.

Woman charged with assault

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A Venice woman is in custody at the Madison County jail after being charged with aggravated assault and domestic battery.

Rhonda G. Manson, 29, of the 1000 block of Logan Street in Venice, was charged Thursday. Bond was set at $50,000.

She is accused of assaulting her 17-year-old daughter after the daughter found her in bed with an unidentified man, according to a police report.

Reports state that, at about 3:52 a.m. Thursday, police were dispatched to the home.

When officers arrived, they saw the victim had "severe swelling on her entire face."

According to the victim, she had gone home early Thursday morning and went upstairs to her bedroom, but couldn't open the door. When she finally got the door open, she saw her mother with a man the daughter did not know.

The victim said Manson became extremely upset, threatened her, and started to strike her repeatedly. Manson then allegedly started choking her daughter, but stopped and fled. She was later arrested at the home.

All's well that ends...

Relatives relieved when missing 7-year-old is found hiding in basement at home

Young Jimmy Maners has a few lessons to learn now that he is out of hiding, including one about spilled milk.

Police, firefighters and tracker dogs spent hours searching the Ginger Creek neighborhood after 7-year-old Jimmy was reported missing late Tuesday, but a trail of milk eventually led other youngsters to the truth — he had been hiding in the basement of his foster home the whole time.

The youth was found about 11:30 a.m. Wednesday hiding under an artificial Christmas tree in the basement of the house in the first block of Ginger Creek Drive, which had been searched by family members and police the previous evening.

Searchers, who had scoured the neighborhood until 3:30 a.m. Wednesday and resumed the hunt at 7:30 a.m., heaved a uniform sigh of relief when the child was found.

Jimmy calmly finished a soggy bowl of breakfast Wheaties about noon Wednesday as swarms of reporters converged with questions about his disappearance.

"It was a good ending," said one tired but smiling searcher. "I'm glad he's OK."

Rescue workers were organizing a larger foot search when a sister and two friends spotted a trail of spilled milk downstairs and found Jimmy in his basement hideout.

Bobbi Jo Krieg, 12, and neighborhood friends Sheryl Kuykendall, 10, and Emily Kuykendall, 13, were searching under a wicker bed in a basement room when they heard a noise coming from a far corner.

They spotted milk on the concrete floor and followed it to the boy's hand and a blanket stuffed under the tree, which had a sheet draped over it.

"He was hoping we hadn't seen him," Bobbi Jo Krieg said, persuaded her brother to come out but could not give any guarantees about the trouble part. "I'm pretty sure he's in trouble," she said.

"He'll clean up the mess, and we'll start over again," foster parent Kathy Brown Krieg said. "He still has to know there are consequences to negative actions."

Kathy Krieg said she and the boy's grandmother could talk of nothing but relief after he was found unharmed. "She cried on the phone when we called her," Krieg said.

Authorities thought Jimmy may have been trying to walk to his grandmother's house in Wood River, about 20 miles away, where he visited frequently.

"He's angry because he wants to live with her," Kathy Krieg said.

Her husband, Ken Krieg, a vice president at Florists' Mutual Insurance Co. in Edwardsville, said he was up all night worrying about the boy, who is terrified of the dark.

"It was beginning to look grim," said Ken Krieg, who took the boy into his home several months ago, joining the two Krieg children and two other foster children.

"He's a wonderful kid, but you never know what might set him off. He does very well in school and has quite a vocabulary. He can read, and he's not in the first grade."

Dr. Charles King Jr., a chiropractor with an office on 23rd Street, has asked the city for the right of first refusal on the property for the next nine months while he investigates the possibility of developing a 2,000-square-foot medical office building.

King projected a cost of $300,000 for the development, according to his proposal. During the nine-month period, King would like to investigate environmental conditions on the property and financing costs, the proposal states.

He said he has contacted several health service providers who have expressed interest in his plan.

"I feel that my development of this site will initiate further projects along the Madison Avenue corridor," King said.

The City Council's Downtown Committee discussed King's proposal in executive session Tuesday night, but took no action.

In an apparently unrelated matter, the city last week sought condemnation of three parcels on the same block — all located on Grand Avenue.

Assistant City Attorney Ed Fitzhenry said the buildings have been deemed "dangerous and unsafe" and that the city is seeking competitive bids to determine the cost of their demolition.

The owners of the three parcels may either bring the buildings up to code or pay to have them demolished, Fitzhenry said.

Building Inspector Glen Hollis said the buildings have been mostly vacant for the last four years.

Music festival set for July 28

A wide variety of traditional acoustic music styles, including bluegrass, country, gospel, folk and blues, will be on tap Sunday, July 28, when the Cahokia Courthouse Historic Site hosts the fifth annual Old Time Music Fete.

The free event, which is co-sponsored by KDHX-FM-88, Pepsi Co. Merit Spring Water Inc. and the Pete du Bon Vieux Temps Committee, begins at noon and showcases two acts each hour until 6 p.m.

The Old Time Music Fete is a "musical rendezvous" for acoustic musicians of all types to get together and play for the public and engage in impromptu "jam sessions."

The stage is the south gallery, or porch, of the historic Cahokia Courthouse, a French Colonial structure built around 1740.

In addition to the scenic main venue, with its non-stop succession of musical acts, a large "jam session" will be located at the opposite end of the site and will serve as a secondary staging area.

Another section of the Courthouse grounds will be set aside for "Kid Stuff," a free chaperoned children's activity area where kite-making and puppet shows will occur throughout the day.

Participants and spectators are welcome to sing, dance, clap, play or simply relax and enjoy the music. Since refreshments will be available, coolers will not be allowed.

Visitors should bring lawn chairs. The event will be held as scheduled rain or shine.

This program is supported by a grant from Ameritech, the Madison County Arts Council, and the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

To reach the Music Fete from Illinois 3, go south to Second Street, where signs and Cahokia deputy marshals will direct spectators to the parking area adjacent to the Village Hall Annex and Fitness Center.

Special signs will also guide visitors to the Cahokia Courthouse, which is two blocks west of Illinois 3 and one block south of the Illinois 3/Illinois 157 junction.

The Cahokia Courthouse State Historic Site, administered by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for free public tours.

To have someone arrested, call 788-3005 Monday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. or call 877-0549 on the day of the event.

done this month.

"I'm hoping it's going to be done. I doubt it very seriously, but I'll be happy if it is. I've still got a bucket on my credenza to catch water."

He said the roof was leaky when he became sheriff 10 years ago and became worse about four years ago.

Churchick said he is eager to move into the new facility.

"I'm going to get the prisoners' work program in there as soon as the building is turned over to us to get it painted and done," he said.

Isolation cells, for prisoners who are HIV-positive or who are to be separated from the general jail population for other health reasons, are already complete. Self-contained cells to keep prisoners in solitary confinement are also complete, Churchick said. "That part of the building" is ready for occupancy, Churchick said. "The roof part... well, that's another story. They're still monkeying with it and trying to line it out."

Lt. Dan Sipes, the jail's superintendent, said the current jail population is about 200 — well above its capacity of 150. So, the 98 extra beds provided by the expansion can't be ready too soon.

"We will just about half fill it the day we move over there," Sipes said.

The leaks have damaged carpeting and ceiling tile, which officials plan to replace as soon as they are satisfied the new roof is leak-proof.

Siglock estimated the cost of repairs at about $50,000. He said county employees will do needed painting. Removal of old carpeting and ceilings should take care of the musty odor that pervades the building, he said.

The jail, built in 1979 to house 158 prisoners, has been chronically overcrowded for years. The new construction adds three six-blocks with 98 beds, a new roof and an improved electronic monitoring system.

Ceremony marks Scott •Madison
change of command

By Deb Cooper
Staff writer

In ceremonies held at the Scott Air Force Base parade field Monday, Gen. Robert Rutherford relinquished command of the United States Transportation Command and Air Mobility Command to Gen. Walter Kross.

The ceremony marked the end of a career that spanned 35 years of military service for Rutherford, who has commanded diverse units for the past two years.

Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Army Gen. John Shalikashvili and Gen. Ronald Fogleman, chief of staff of the Air Force, flew in to participate in the ceremonies.

In his remarks, Shalikashvili said the service of both Rutherford and his wife, Kita, was exceptional. "Skip and Kita leave a legacy of excellence... a record of overwhelming success," said Shalikashvili.

Rutherford was remembered by Fogleman as having a tremendous ability to grasp a situation and translate it to someone else.

"He never lost sight of the troops and recognized the importance of taking care of the people, we are going to miss him," said Fogleman.

During the ceremony, several presentations were made. Rutherford was presented the Defense Air Force Distinguished Service Medal and Air Force Distinguished Service Medal.

Mrs. Rutherford was honored with the Distinguished Public Service Award and Exceptional Service Award and Volunteer Service Award.

During more than three decades in the Air Force, Rutherford has held nine command positions at squadron, wing, numbered Air Force and major command levels.

A command pilot with more than 5,000 flying hours, the retiring general has flown airlift, tanker, fighter and trainer aircraft. He has 161 combat missions to his credit including 101 flights over North Vietnam.

Of his service, Rutherford said, "It's been a great adventure and if we had to do it over again, it would be in exactly the same way. We have enjoyed the sense of purpose, comradery and friendship."

Gov. Jim Edgar proclaimed July 15 as Gen. Robert Rutherford Day in honor of his retirement and in appreciation of his dedicated service.

Kross, the new commander, is a native of Illinois having been assigned to Scott as vice commander of AMC from July 1992 to June 1993.

"I'm the happy man on the field today. I'm very excited to be back here," said Kross. "I'm the happy man on the field today. I'm very excited to be back here," said Kross. "I'm the happy man on the field today. I'm very excited to be back here," said Kross.

Air National Guard
to move to new airport

By Deb Cooper
Staff writer

With 20 months to go before its opening, the MidAmerica Airport has already lined up its first tenant — the 126th Air Refueling Wing of the Illinois Air National Guard.

In a press conference held Wednesday in Chicago, Mayor Richard M. Daley announced plans that will clear the way for the unit to move from its present location at O'Hare International Airport to the St. Clair County regional location.

Air Force officials were on hand for the announcement and Daley thanked the Air Force "for its spirit of cooperation throughout the acquisition process."

In a press release from Daley's office, Secretary of the Air Force Sheila Widnall was quoted as saying, "We're excited that this process is being completed. The Air Force gains new and modern facilities at Scott Air Force Base and the city of Chicago gains much needed room for growth. In this time of shrinking tax dollars, we all win."

The Defense Base Closure and Realignment Commission ordered the deactivation of the Air Force's 928th Airlift Wing which was based in Chicago and ordered the relocation of the 126th Air Refueling Wing of Scott, providing the city could demonstrate its ability to pay relocation costs.

Purchase price for the Air Guard property at O'Hare is $104 million which will be paid over the next three years. It would be paid by the airlines using O'Hare in the form of airport revenue bonds.

Presently, nearly 365 acres are offered at the Chicago airport by the Guard units. The Air Guard unit relocation will mean some 342 full-time positions will come to the area. Local officials expect the move to generate nearly $100 million each year into the economy.

City Clerk William Weidner said he would have to be notified about items to be placed on the agenda by 4:30 p.m. the Monday before the meeting. He also asked aldermen to make sure he knew about any material they needed to bring to the meeting from city hall.

The council also approved an ordinance creating a handicapped parking space at 722 Washington Ave. It also approved adding Ruby Coopwood and William Garrett Sr. to the city's housing board. The board was recently created to help the city obtain community development funds for low-income housing.

The council also gave Bellico authority to negotiate with the Illinois Department of Transportation to take over responsibility for Ohio Street.

The city intends to take out a low-interest loan to make improvements to the street. City officials estimated the cost of improvements at about $300,000. The improvements would create a better entrance to Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza, which is considering a major expansion. The improved roadway could also be used by other businesses locating in the area.

•Hagnauer

"This kind of surprises me," Papa said, adding that he could not reach her and did not know why she resigned. The board elected Papa its new chairman last month, and he appointed Bernadine Hagnauer to the District 20 board seat at the board's regular meeting, June 19. She was to have served through November, the remainder of her husband's unexpired term.

Papa said she indicated no reluctance to take the position when he offered it or later when he talked with her about committee assignments. Hagnauer was absent at what would have been her first board meeting Wednesday. Her letter of resignation was dated Monday.

On June 24, Democratic precinct committeemen in District 20 elected Warfield to replace Nellie Hagnauer on the November 5 general election ballot. No Republican filed to run for the position.

Papa said Thursday he would appoint a replacement to the board within 60 days, but declined to come right out and say it would be Warfield.

"I will respect the wishes of the committeemen, who elected Mac to the ballot," Papa said. Warfield said Thursday he would accept the post, but that there were still a few pending projects in Granite City he wanted to clear up.

"I want to get this budget passed, for one," Warfield said. Warfield will have to resign the City Council to take the county post.

He is chairman of the council's Finance Committee and Street and Alley Committee.

Mayor Ron Selph, who was on vacation last week, said earlier this month that four persons had asked to be considered for the aldermanic vacancy — former 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak, letter carrier and current school board member John Caudron, Charlie Cross, and John Petish Jr. Selph said he would make a decision when it becomes necessary.

"They're all fine candidates," he said.

Perjak served as 4th Ward alderman for two terms, from 1981 to 1989. She was defeated in her bid for a third term by Dan Brown in a three-way race. Brown, who finished second to Selph in a 10-man mayoral race in 1993, is now the city's economic development director, appointed to the post by Selph last year.

Perjak is employed by the St. Louis architectural firm of Peckham, Guyton, Albers and Viets. She is also a former state central committee member.

Due to redistricting in 1992, she now resides in the 6th Ward. (Some information for this story was supplied by The Telegraph.)

Group gets big response

After reading an article about a lack of adult volunteers for the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program, Brian Hamann decided he wanted to make a difference in a child's life.

He isn't alone. Twelve other adults also took the first step toward becoming a Big Brother or Big Sister by calling the organization, said Barbara Cempura, executive director of Southwestern Illinois Big Brothers/Big Sisters.

"We sure are grateful for the response," she said. The number of callers last week was "unusual in such a short period of time," she said.

Hamann, who lives near Alton, said he is excited about volunteering but that he fears the lack of positive role models for children.

"I just hope I can provide some happiness for some child," he said. Because he is a volunteer firefighter, Hamann understands what it means to donate his time. He said he has never volunteered in a program that involves children but that he would "at least like to give it a shot."

Cempura said that, although the response has been great, the number of boys needing volunteers is still high.

"We still need a few good men," she joked. The children, who are between ages of 7 and 14, are matched with volunteers by gender who have similar interests.

Nursing home worker faces charges

A former employee of Anna Henry Nursing Home in Edwardsville may face theft charges after allegedly going on a shopping spree with $500 from the residents' trust fund.

Police are investigating reports that a certified nurse assistant at the home, 637 Hillsboro Ave., may have spent the money for her own use instead of buying personal supplies for 21 residents.

Administrator Sandra Middleton told Edwardsville police Tuesday the woman, a Fairmont City resident, spent the money then repeatedly made excuses as to why she could not provide the receipts.

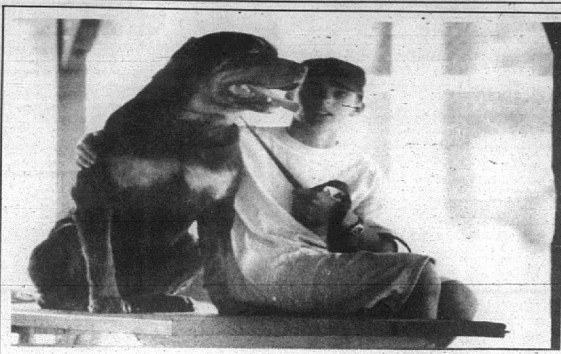

The woman, whose name was being withheld pending charges, provided the receipts this past week, but nursing home officials questioned the purchases, including toothpaste and shampoo, which the home provides; and food, soda and cigarettes.

Residents are not allowed to smoke or eat food brought in. Also listed was a toy bubble mower.

One resident, who does not have teeth, supposedly received three toothbrushes and a tube of toothpaste, according to the receipts.

Middleton said the woman no longer works for the nursing home but would not confirm if the woman had been fired.

Adoption plea

Program calls attention to need of black youngsters

A joyous evening of celebrating African culture was interspersed with a serious message of the need for adoptive and foster parents for dozens of area black youngsters.

Sponsored by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, young performers from the Katherine Dunham Center for the Performing Arts in East St. Louis dramatized poetry, danced and energetically beat drums Saturday in Goshen Lounge at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

While the young costumed performers demonstrated their talents, about 50 officials and prospective adoptive and foster parents talked about how they can help other black children make the most of their lives.

"We're all community to those children. The reality is we are a village," said Michael Knowles, director of the Village Investment Project at the Adoption Information Center of Illinois in Chicago.

Referring to the popular phrase of how it takes a village to raise a child, Knowles said, "We are all connected as a people. The children may not be your own, but they are our own. It's important we can all invest in a village."

Brice Bloom-Ellis, adoption coordinator for DCFS in Fairview Heights, said there are 55 black children waiting for adoptive homes in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Half of the children who need homes are ages 6 through 12, which Bloom-Ellis said are difficult ages to place.

There is a particularly great need for parents willing to accept boys and siblings, he said.

Some 600 children are in foster care in the two-county area, with many becoming legally freed for adoption, he said.

One Swansea couple, Fred and Sonya Bellamy, are foster parents to one 3-year-old girl but came to find out how to help more.

"We're just interested in finding out more about adoption and foster parenting and what more we can do to tell our friends," Sonya Bellamy said.

Her husband said, "It's a perfect opportunity to meet some other foster parents and to exchange information."

Anthony Jenkins, regional administrator for the southern region of DCFS, said the informal get-togethers are designed both to interest those invited to the program and to encourage them to spread the word about the need for adoptive and foster homes to their friends.

For more information about adoption or becoming a foster parent, call 394-2100.

Three Common Mistakes Adults Make When Going Back To School

If layoffs and downsizing have you headed back to school, there are a number of smart strategies to consider and several common mistakes to avoid.

1. Taking a few classes instead of a career program.

When you decide to go back to school, your education becomes a means to an end. You want a good job with security and benefits. Look around... Where do you want to work? What do you wish you were doing every day?

Answer these questions before you start looking at colleges so your education can focus on a specific objective. This way you're much more likely to reach your career goal and achieve what's important to you.

2. Failing to review employment trends.

Today's job market has been radically affected by technology and the economy. That's why you need current career facts. Understanding the importance of accurate information, Sanford-Brown College trains its admissions staff to provide you with career statistics. You'll learn exactly what the future holds and how you might fit into the picture.

3. Investing time and money without calculating the return.

If you're going back to college, or just considering that option, take the time to find out more. Call Sanford-Brown College and talk with a college representative. There's no obligation and who knows—maybe the time you spend talking will help your future turn out great.

TyrFil® A Product of Synair Corporation

Tyrfil is a two-component system where air is displaced in a tire and the entire cavity is filled with liquid polyurethane rubber. The liquid then cures at room temperature to a low durometer, soft resilient rubber core that has flexing characteristics which approximate those of an air inflated tire. Since the cured core is solid, the tire will not deflate from puncture or sidewall cuts.

HOW TO...

PLACE AN AD

There are four easy ways to place your ad. BRING IT: 1815 Delmar Ave., Granite City, IL 62040. PHONE IT: Call 877-7700 or dial 876-2000. Monday through Friday. FAX IT: Send your ads directly to our Classified Fax Center at 618-876-4240. We'll call you back for confirmation.

MAIL IT: Send your ads to: Classified Granite City Press Record Journal, 1815 Delmar, Granite City, IL 62040.

PAY FOR AN AD

You will be billed immediately following last run day. You may pay in person, through the mail, or over the phone or fax. We accept cash, checks and credit cards (MC/Visa/Discover). When paying over the phone, please have your credit card ready. When faxing your ad, just include your credit card number. We'll call you back for confirmation. Please do not send cash through the mail. Some ads require prepayment.

WE TAKE PLASTIC!

TURN YOUR NO LONGER NEEDED ITEMS INTO CASH! TRY A CLASSIFIED AD!

WRITE AN AD

Capture the reader's attention with larger headlines, bold type, and symbols. Tell them up front what you're selling or seeking. Describe what is unique about your item, adding details such as color and condition. Avoid abbreviations; they make your ad harder to read and therefore less effective. Include your phone number and the hours you are available. Always include the price; it will increase your responses.

CANCEL AN AD

Deadlines for ad cancellations are identical to deadlines for ad placement. You may cancel an ad in person or over the phone. To cancel an ad, phone 877-7700.

need for hosts for the team, she and her team acted quickly.

"The festival is all about education through sports, so when I was contacted, I thought it would be a good way to learn about another culture," she said. "And we also think it will be a lot of fun."

Parents of the Predators' team members are volunteering to host the visitors. Worthen herself will have four visitors for the next week.

"I don't know what it will be like," Worthen said. "We're excited about it, though. A lot of these girls have been pen pals for several years, and we're excited about meeting them at the airport and showing them the area."

A full docket of activities is on tap for the next week, as the Predators will show the Appleton team the sights around St. Louis, including the Arch, a Cardinals game and Raging Rivers Water Park.

"We wanted to do as much as we could in between games," Worthen said. "The girls wanted to do many activities as they could, besides playing them a game."

That game will be included in a whole day's worth of events surrounding the visit. The Granite City Park District will officially welcome the team in pre-game ceremonies, before everyone is invited to the park pool for a post-game swim.

The Predators will also join the Robar team in the Arnold tournament this week.

Team members from Granite City include: Jessica Worthen, Jessica Wallace, Kera Olson, Jessica Stralman, Della Moore and Jessica Reader.

Also on the team are Collinsville-area residents Staci Evans, Kristen McEuen, Melissa Berry and Nikki Hagely.

The Predators, made up of girls ages 13-15, play schedule against select teams from around the metro area. But their formation can be tied to the renewed interest in softball in Granite City.

"We're just trying to get going here in softball," Worthen said. "But softball is definitely getting bigger here. We're a traveling team, and we see a lot of places and play a lot of teams. We have a good time together."

Anyone looking for more information on the Predators or to join the team can call Worthen at 876-2561.

tive to Stegemeier.

"It should be a good tournament," he said. "Cuba was favored until their star pitcher (Ricardo Arroyo) defected. But I've heard that Cuba really crushes the ball. The United States team has had trouble hitting Cuban and Japanese pitching in preliminary games."

Stegemeier submitted an application to help at the Olympics shortly after helping out at the Olympic Festival.

"That way I could at least tell people I had my name in the pool," he said.

He got the notice this spring that he had been selected. He hadn't been disappointed so far.

"Things are very well organized," he said. "The logistics of something like this are just incredible. Atlanta was chosen six years ago, and they probably needed all that time to get things organized."

"I thought it would take forever to get my credentials. But I walked in and things were taken care of in about 20 minutes."

So far, Stegemeier has been able to avoid the crowds. "I drive to a parking lot in the morning and pick up public transportation to the stadium," he said. "There's a lot of parking available at that time."

Stegemeier will work from 7 p.m. to midnight each day there is baseball being played. The games began Saturday and will continue through Thursday. Friday will be a makeup day in case of rain then the tournament will continue through July 30.

Another makeup game follows on July 31, then the semifinals will be Aug. 1. The bronze medal and gold medal games will be Aug. 2.

"I asked if I needed to stick around after that and they said no," Stegemeier said. "So I'll head home on Saturday morning (Aug. 3)."

"It's going to be a thrill."

•All-Stars

Kohlenberger, as well as Saugette's Cory Blackwell, handcuffed St. Clair's fierce lineup.

The only serious threat St. Clair could mount following Hargan was against Proffer. After retiring the first two hitters in the fifth, Proffer surrendered a triple to Granite City's Jason Wood and free passes to Clippers teammates Tim Hogan and Jeff Silvey.

But the rightlander struck out East Alton's Jeff Silvey, ending the threat and helping send Monroe to victory.

Overall, losing manager Daren DePew — now 2-1 as an all-star skipper — said Monroe's pitching was the difference.

"Their pitching did a nice job," DePew said. "We didn't hit, and you have to hit to win in baseball. That's part of the game. We had a couple of guys thrown out on the bases. We played to win, but some of the things we tried didn't work."

"I've never had a team like this. I'm certainly not too confident, because we haven't shown that we can do that. You can't just talk about it, you have to prove it."

If the team can win the second round, it will play Collinsville (15-4) for the North Blue championship at 2 p.m. Monday.

Winfield said his team's pitching is one aspect he hasn't had to worry about. "We're in pretty good shape with that," he said. "I'll probably go with (Justin) Bettor at Highland and (Mike) Ahlvers Sunday. (Shawn) Kuehnel went in the first three against Smithton, and (Billy) Niepert finished up the last two innings. They should be able to come back against Collinsville if we make it that far."

"To The Retiree Who Wants To Protect Your Money, Income, And Assets From Being Wiped Out!"

You Can Lose Everything You Own!

Retirees who have not set up proper strategies can, and often do, have all of their net worth wiped out when someone in the family goes into a nursing home. The government can literally take your CO's, your house, your Social Security and pension checks, your investments, IRA's, and more.

The Myth Of Medicaid!

One of the biggest misunderstandings around is that Medicare will pay for nursing home expenses. This is completely WRONG! Medicare is a health insurance program, not a nursing home care program. In fact, Medicare usually pays NOTHING towards the costs of staying in a long term facility. You are responsible for every dime of long term care expenses...not Uncle Sam!

Medicaid Will NOT PAY Until You've Lost Everything...And Are Flat Broke!

Many people think that Medicaid will pick up the monthly costs of being in a nursing home. That's true. But, they will only pay after you've lost nearly everything you own! You virtually have to be penniless before they kick in a dime!

The Average Family Will Lose Everything!

The cost of long term nursing home care is outrageous! The national average is over $40,000 per year! How long would your assets last if you had to pay that kind of money? And, even if you could go for a while, why would you want to? No one wants to see their whole life savings evaporate right in front of their eyes! Every day, we see people being wiped out needlessly. There are solutions to this horrible problem. But, you won't find them in any magazine, or from your accountant or attorney!

Find Out What You MUST Know About Protecting Your Life Savings...Before It's Too Late!

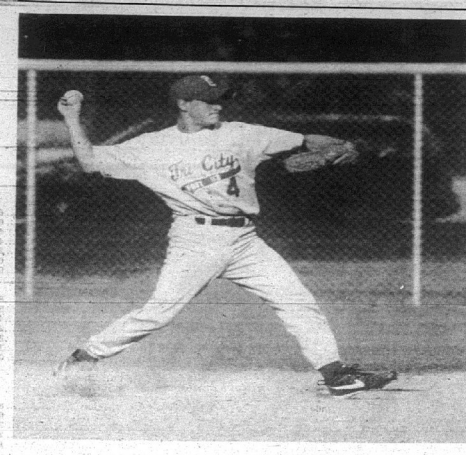

A local financial advisory firm is hosting a series of FREE seminars that will teach you:

- 10 legal ways to transfer assets out of the "countable" category, into the "un-countable" category;
- How to virtually blindfold your home, so it may never be taken away!
- How to take steps that may prevent your car and other assets from being taken;
- How to virtually assure your Social Security and pension income will be kept in your hands...not Uncle Sam!
- The biggest mistake retirees make on how their money and assets are titled; and how to avoid this costly trap!
- Little known loopholes to legally avoid being forced to sell your assets, or surrender your money to Medicaid!

FREE Seminar Reveals The Secrets To Protecting Your Money From Medicaid!

You deserve the peace of mind and security that protecting your assets from Medicaid achieves! If you'd like to learn more about how to protect yourself, NOW, we're holding a FREE SEMINAR FRIDAY, JULY 26, 2:00 p.m. at FISHER'S RESTAURANT, BELLEVILLE, IL. ## •Juniors could be in the tourney if they played well enough this weekend.

"A lot of things could happen," Lignoul said. "You always have a shot. Hopefully, things will work out."

With the Senior Legion playoffs also taking place this weekend, Lignoul said he could be faced with some tough decisions if the Junior squad lasts longer than the Senior team.

Lignoul has four players on the Post 113 Senior team that are also on his roster, and they could certainly help if they are available. But Lignoul's also happy with the way his players have come around late in the year.

"All this talk could be for nothing, though," he said. "The Senior team could surprise a few people."

Whatever happens in the playoffs, at least three of the Junior Triplets will be playing on Tuesday, The District 22 Junior Legion All-Star game will be played at Longacre Park in Fairview Heights, and three Post 113 players are on the roster.

Brian Kamadulski and Vince Whittenburg, the Junior Triplets' top two hitters, along with pitcher John Kelly, have each been named to the North Division team.

Kelly was named as a pitcher, although he went 5-for-5 in Thursday's game against Highland.

"John's been experimenting as a switch hitter for some time, but Thursday was the first time he ever tried it in a game," Lignoul said. "Sure enough, after he got hits his first time up right-handed, he goes up and bats left for the first time and gets three hits."

Kamadulski is hitting .328 on the year, and has only committed four errors all season at his shortstop position. Whittenburg is batting .358, but he's actually been in a slump lately. Three weeks ago, Whittenburg was batting .414.

Pinching Pennies Can Hurt

The space between George's ears is definitely enemy territory.

George is getting ready to close on a house. Custom built from ground level up. And George is patting himself on the back for being so clever at penny pinching. His latest coup was to save money by eliminating a building inspection.

Bad idea. Saving could cost George money.

Here is George's rationale. When a new house is constructed, it undergoes a series of inspections in order to pass codes. Plumbing building, electrical codes, for instance. Because of this, and the fact that the house is new, George figures a building inspection is a total waste of time and money. After all, what could be wrong with a new house.

Penny!

Reality is this. Even if one is dealing with the most reputable builder in town, mistakes happen. Builders use subcontractors. If the subcontractor becomes sloppy, errors result. Little things like a piece of flashing missing by a chimney, R21 insulation in the ceiling where there should be R30, hot and cold water supply reversal, a section of siding incorrectly installed, an electrical outlet not properly grounded.

The list goes on. Usually minor things. Without a building inspection such defects probably would go unnoticed by the buyer. But they could cause problems later.

There is no such thing as the perfect house. No matter how conscientious a builder may be, mistakes are made. The point of having a building inspection on new construction is to detect any faults and direct correction of same before one closes on the property. Finding the problems after the closing might be too late.

George may be saving a dollar now but it probably will cost him two in the long run. If you are building a home, remember George's ears aren't enemy territory. Penny pinching by skipping a building inspection can hurt.
